

La Casa  del Camino

PRESS KIT

A woman with dark hair, wearing a white sleeveless dress, is captured in a joyful dance pose with her arms raised and a wide smile. She is positioned in the center of the frame, in front of a dark wooden headboard. The room features a bed with white linens and several white pillows. On either side of the headboard, there are ornate, dark metal wall sconces with white candles. The walls are a warm, light beige color. The overall atmosphere is bright and cheerful.

La Casa del Camino is a historical seaside Mediterranean-style boutique hotel in beautiful Laguna Beach, California. The restored 1929 hotel, once the stomping ground of Hollywood elite, has myriad settings for an intimate costal destination with a Mediterranean bistro, Rooftop Lounge and fitness club access at The Art of Fitness & Spa

A Landmark Hotel Experience Since 1929

HISTORY

La Casa del Camino

1289

La Casa del Camino offers more than any other landmark in Laguna Beach....

In 1929, La Casa del Camino quickly became a local favorite for the former Hollywood elite, making it a perfect coastal destination. From graceful arches and rustic wooden balconies that capture the Spanish revival style, to soaring views of laguna village and Riviera costaline, La Casa del Camino brings it together like nowhere else. It was envisioned by its builder, local artist and City Councilman William W. Riddell as a spectacular destination along a great stretch of sand at the heart of Laguna beach. His vision was not only to build a place for travelers, but a place for the community to gather, a place for art to be appreciated, a place where business and social clubs would flourish and help create a local landmark to proclaim the world that is Laguna Beach.
